Netecs launches new "Technology On The Go" Mobile Website

Inland Empire, CA -- Netecs, a business to business global supplier of information technology hardware and software products and services, announced the roll out of their new "Technology On The Go" mobile website, www.netecs.mobi. The mobile website is compatible with all web-enabled cell phones and mobile devices.

"Our customer's IT associates are mobile, so our content and services needed to be as well," explains Jennifer Bloom, manager of digital marketing for Netecs.

Instead of doing research from their PC's and Laptops, information technology professionals can now research product information and even request quotes via their handsets, anytime, anywhere. And, if they have questions before they submit any request, a "click to dial" call to their account representative is just one easy click away.

Experience the new Netecs "Technology On The Go" mobile site at www.netecs.mobi.
